

Canberra Data Centre

Fyshwick, ACT

Client: CDC Data Centres

Budget: Undisclosed

Role: Architecture and Interior Design Consultant

Type: Office Fit-out

Completed: 2019

The project involved the fit-out of a base building space also designed by EJE, as part of a large Data Centre development in Canberra. The office fit-out accommodates the new corporate headquarters of a rapidly expanding data centre operator, with a functional brief including boardroom, corporate hospitality and staff lunch space, flexible workstation spaces and local and remote collaboration spaces of various formats, from connected meeting rooms to individual 'phone booths'.

Visual linking to the CDC branding and architecture, spatial organisation reflective of their services and operational workflow and a sense of light and volume delivered a vibrant and successful project to for the client.
